Evaluation FAQs

1. Who is Culture Counts?

Culture Counts is the evaluation partner of the Office of Multicultural Interests. We are a Perth-based evaluation company that focuses on understanding how people feel when they come away from an event or using a service. We have an extensive framework that includes statements like "I feel connected to the community" and "It engaged people from different backgrounds".

2. Why have these particular questions been included in the survey?

We have worked with OMI to establish a survey framework that aligns with their strategic goals. The survey you have been provided will also give you data that helps capture the social, cultural and community impact of your event. The survey is designed to be short and easy for respondents to navigate.

3. How do I distribute the survey?

If you are running a ticketed event - you can email ticketholders directly with the link provided.

If you are running a free/community event - you can interview attendees and put up posters at the event.

You will need to check that you have the correct link, they are different! Please contact Culture Counts.

4. What is a good sample size?

We like to aim for around 100 responses, depending on the size of your event. The minimum is around 50 responses.

5. How can I see my results?

You will need to contact Culture Counts for an export of your data.

6. Are responses anonymous?

They are! We adhere to strict privacy and security protocols, so attendees can be assured their responses are private and confidential.
